RECTOR'S NOTES

SERVICES IN NOVEMBER

I am very pleased with the response to the 10am Morning Service which we have held once a month since September. The less formal style is markedly different from what we do at 11am, but I am thrilled to provide options for parishioners to choose how best to encounter God through worship, and I have actually found myself uplifted on each occasion that the service has been held. Our next informal 10am service will be on Sunday 10th November, which is Remembrance Sunday. I think that's a very apt day for us to explore how to forgive those who hurt us. Whilst the children tend to prefer this sort of service over more formal worship, please let me reiterate that the 10am service is for everyone, regardless of age!

At both 9am and 11am on Sunday 10th November, we will have an Act of Remembrance, which will include a time of silence. During the 11am service, the names of the fallen from the parish (St Peter and St James) from the First and Second World Wars will be read aloud.

On Sunday 24th November, it's the feast day of Christ the King, also known as the Kingship of Christ. This day marks the last Sunday of the liturgical year, as the season of Advent begins the following week.

TABLE QUIZ

On Saturday 16th November, table quizzes will be organised in churches throughout the country, in aid of TearFund. I'm pleased to say that St Peter's is hosting one such quiz, at 3.30pm in the halls. We're asking for a donation of £2 per adult and £1

QUIZ

per child (or as much as you'd like to donate) all of which will go towards TearFund, to help them respond to emergencies with practical help around the world. There will be prizes for the first, second, and last teams, and everyone can have tea/coffee and a biscuit! To keep it fair, there is a maximum of six people per team (excluding children). You can organise a team in advance, or join up with others on the day.

NATIVITY PLAY

Oh my goodness, it's still October as I write this, and it's frightening to be already thinking about a nativity play! For the last few years, we have made the play the focus of our 11am service on the Sunday before Christmas. This year that will be Sunday 22nd December. If you would like your child to be involved, then speak to me in the coming weeks, as we'll have a rehearsal in early December. Only the narrators have speaking parts, so tell your children not to be too worried about needing to do a lot. It's always better when it's fun, and my main concern is that the children should enjoy doing it. And if needs be, mum or dad can join in too!

PRAYER TRAINING

The Church's Ministry of Healing occasionally runs a course called "Introduction to Prayer Ministry". This year, I went with Anne Cromie, Dora Hanna, and Rosemary Johnston. Held at the Church's Ministry of Healing building called The Mount in east Belfast, it was spread over four Monday mornings. Topics included: the mandate to pray; healing in Jesus' ministry; using our spiritual gifts; different dimensions of healing; faith and healing; authority to heal; the importance of prayer; praying for physical healing; the laying-on of hands; anointing with oil; repentance, inner healing, and forgiveness. Despite the broad range, the course was delivered by the Rev'd Pat Mollan in a relaxed and conversational style. I am very grateful to Pat and the Ministry of Healing for facilitating this course, and I heartily recommend that you attend when it is next organised.

SERMON SUMMARY

On the 17th Sunday after Trinity (13th October) I preached on Luke 17: 11–19, which describes the healing of ten men with leprosy. I said that I have seen miraculous healing with my own eyes. I have stood at a bedside in an intensive care unit, having been informed that the patient has hours to live, and have witnessed the comatose patient respond physically in a way that should not be possible to prayer, and the laying on of hands, and anointing with oil, and then for that same patient to amaze the doctors and nurses by walking out of hospital a few days later, and to this day they are living a happy and healthy life.

Of course some of you will be cynical; some of you will doubt that such things can happen; but if that kind of healing has not happened to you personally, or if you have never seen it happen to someone else, then I urge you at the very least to be open minded about the possibility.

Because if you dig your heels in, and say “It doesn’t happen” then remember that you are denying the power of the living God.

But let me make three very quick points about that. First of all, miraculous healing does not happen all the time, to everyone, in the way that we want or expect. If it did, then Christians would never catch the cold.

And I freely admit that just as I have witnessed healing happen, I have also stood at the bedsides of patients in hospital, who have not recovered. And I understand that this presents us with very serious questions as we try to understand why some people are healed, whilst others aren’t.

But secondly—and this is important to note—the healing which God can give us, does not necessarily have to be divine intervention. He has given us the intelligence and the skill and the resources, to develop medicines and procedures for health conditions which could well have led to death at an early age in the past, but which now enable people to lead normal and relatively healthy lives. So trusting in God to heal you, does not necessarily mean that you throw away your medicine, and refuse treatment, and just wait for some form of miraculous intervention. On the contrary, we recognise that such medical treatment is one way through which God offers us the chance to live a normal and active life.

And thirdly, when you are sick, don’t stop praying for healing. No, it might not achieve the result you want, but then again, it might. So always ask God—one way or another—to intervene.

PRAYER POINTERS

by Rosemary Johnston

Please pray about the following matters which were raised at our Parish Meeting:

- We would like more members of our local community to be drawn into St Peter's to worship, particularly our Sunday evening services which can be a quiet and reflective time during the busyness of life. Pray that God would inspire people to make that often difficult first step through the church doors.
- We would like the intercessions offered during our services to be meaningful, rather than repetitive and formulaic. We are keen for members of the congregation to have the courage to offer their own prayers, rather than reading those prepared for them.
- We would like to sell the former St James' Church, in order to raise funds which will help to sustain and grow St Peter's. We need interested buyers to express an interest. Please pray for God to guide us in this process.
- We need to make teenagers feel welcomed and valued within the worshipping life of the Church, and ensure that they have age-appropriate teaching and guidance. Pray for them, and for their parents, and for those who minister to them.
- We are considering running an Alpha course, or something similar, in order to reach the unchurched in the area who are looking to explore their relationship with God. Pray that we might have the wisdom to know how best to do this.
- We now have Lay Visitors who are visiting members of the congregations in their homes. Please pray for them, that they would have confidence and compassion to carry out this important ministry.
- There will be a Table Quiz on Saturday 16th November, raising money for TearFund. Please pray that this would be well-supported by people of all ages.
- St Peter's has been designated as a Safe Space by Women's Aid. Please pray for all who are suffering from domestic abuse in all its forms.
- Instead of a Christmas Fayre, there will be Afternoon Tea on Saturday 14th December, raising funds for the parish. Please pray that this event will run smoothly, and that it will be well supported.

Prayer Cards are available in church for you to fill in should you wish to have prayer for yourself or another person. These prayers will be offered at our mid-week service of Holy Communion.

En El Camino de Santiago In the footsteps of St James

Shortly after Jesus' death James, one of his closest disciples, set off towards the west of Europe to spread the gospel in response to Jesus' wishes. The last part of his route into and across northern Spain is known as El Camino de Santiago de Compostela—Compostela being the point he reached and whose cathedral is dedicated to him. This route has been followed as a Pilgrimage for many hundreds of years. I have just walked a small section of the Camino (way) - from San Juan de Ortega (circled in the photo) to Compostela and this is a brief outline of a memorable week.

These are our guides—Daniel on the left and Marcos on the right with Jose, whose uncle placed much of the signage—shell and yellow arrows—on the Camino some years ago.

Our first walk of 6kms was over fairly flat grassy/gravel terrain—this was a good introduction as it wasn't too difficult.

The following day we had a walking tour of Burgos including its beautiful cathedral which is often described as the most magnificent in Europe.

After that visit we continued on our Camino covering 11 kms broken up by stopping in the village of Hontanas for a picnic lunch. We finished for the day in a village called Castrojeriz. Again the terrain was mainly grass or gravel so not too difficult.

Next day en route to the start of our Camino we visited the Cruz de Fierro—Cross of Iron where tradition is to place a stone you have carried with you from the beginning of your Camino and to say a prayer as you lay it—this represents a casting off of any troubles or worries you may be having in your life. As well as my personal stone I carried one from the grounds of St Peter’s (marked with x) and I laid it saying a prayer for our Parish, our Rector and all our parishioners. I found this very meaningful.

Cruz de Fierro—Cross of Iron

As we continued on our Camino we covered a very difficult section of stony terrain but finally arrived a few hours later in the village of Molinaseca where we enjoyed a meal together. We had covered 8kms in the course of the day.

Before setting off on our Camino next day, we attended a Pilgrims’ Mass in the local church.

We then did a walk of 3.5kms from the village of O Cebreiro through Liñares to Portomarin—this was difficult enough as it was very hilly—both up and down—a steady pace was required!

After lunch in Portomarin we all walked the last 9.5kms of the Camino together arriving in the square in front of the cathedral in Compostela. This square is always teeming with ‘pilgrims’ so it is very atmospheric.

When James returned to Rome he was beheaded—the first Apostle to die. Legend has it that his remains were taken back in a stone boat and when his companions were deciding where to bury them they saw a vision—a field in front of them lit up by stars—this gave the place its name—Compostela, which translates as field of stars in Galician Spanish. The cathedral which houses his remains was built on this spot. We were able to visit his sepulchre inside the cathedral.

I found the whole experience both exhilarating and exciting especially when I thought of St James walking there over 2000 years ago and how he travelled so far to spread the gospel. We owe so much to him and to all those brave disciples.

When on the Camino if you meet anyone you always say Buen Camino! So if any of you ever decide to walk a section of it, I wish you Buen Camino!

Jill Bradley

Pilgrim's prayer from La Faba
on the Camino to Santiago (found at O Cebreiro)

Although I may have travelled all the roads, crossed mountains and valleys from East to West,
if I have not discovered the freedom to be myself,
I have arrived nowhere.

Although I may have shared all my possessions
with people of other languages and cultures;
made friends with Pilgrims of a thousand paths,
or shared albergues with saints and princes,
if I am not capable of forgiving my neighbour tomorrow,
I have arrived nowhere.

Although I may have carried my pack from beginning to end and waited for every Pilgrim in need of encouragement, or given my bed to one who arrived later than I,
given my bottle of water in exchange for nothing;
if upon return to my home and work,
I am not able to create brotherhood
or to make happiness, peace and unity,
I have arrived nowhere.

Although I may have had food and water each day,
and enjoyed a roof and shower every night;
or may have had my injuries well attended,
if I have not discovered in all that the love of God,
I have arrived nowhere.

Although I may have seen all the monuments
and contemplated the best sunsets;
although I may have learned a greeting in every language or tasted the clean water from every fountain;
if I have not discovered who is the author of so much free beauty and so much peace,
I have arrived nowhere.

If from today I do not continue walking in your path,
searching and living according to what I have learned;
if from today I do not see in every person, friend or foe
a companion on the Camino;
if from today I cannot recognize God,
the God of Jesus of Nazareth
as the one God of my life,
I have arrived nowhere.

PASTORAL CARE

If you would like to arrange for the Rector to visit you at home, whether to share your anxieties in confidence, for spiritual advice, for prayer, or for Holy Communion, then please contact him on 90 777 053. This is an essential part of his ministry and he will be pleased to visit you and help in whatever way he can. If the Rector is unavailable, there will be contact details for other clergy on the answer machine.

If you or a loved one is seriously ill, particularly if you are admitted to hospital, please inform the Rector. He often visits the hospitals but has no way of knowing who has been admitted unless he is informed. If you are visited by a hospital chaplain and they ask if you would like your Rector to visit, please say “yes” and he will gladly come to see you.
